

Some of the Gallup Animal Lives Saved

Pirate flew to Maryland to meet his new mom and canine sisters.

Mickey is now all grown up and in a forever loving home.

Adopted by an active Albuquerque family with children who dote on Justin, once a trailer park stray. This terrific family also adopted his canine brother, Zuma, from us in 2007.

Giant, named for his huge heart; not his size, came into the shelter with mangled ears now plays ball with his teen girl adopter and family in Santa Fe.

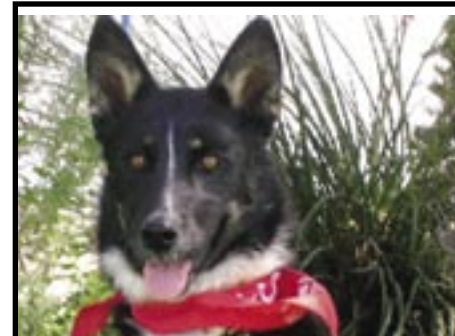

Tilda was chosen by her Texas family due to having the same name as a former pet they owned.

Handsome long-haired black kitty finally got a forever home.

Beautiful yellow tabby got a great home.

Chinook, a feral pup locally rescued AC officers was found stuck between a building and fence. She survived pneumonia, learned to trust humans, and now has a forever home with kids and other dogs.

Elegant grey cat got adopted.

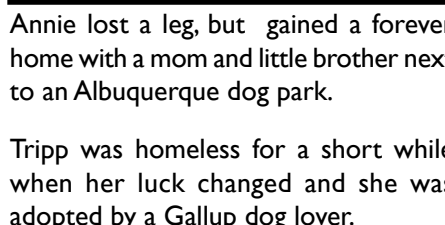

Annie lost a leg, but gained a forever home with a mom and little brother next to an Albuquerque dog park.

Rascal, a heeler-husky mix that lives up to her name got lucky at an adopt-a-thon and now hikes on the river in Corrales.

Molly snuggles with her retired owner in a dog friendly retirement apartment.

Tripp was homeless for a short while when her luck changed and she was adopted by a Gallup dog lover.

Riley, an energetic pup, now has an active lifestyle with her local Gallup owner.

Honey Bun was finally adopted by a local Gallup family.

Willow, a Collie-Shep mix pup playing in her Gallup backyard.

Waddles was brought into the shelter by a caring family one Saturday who found him in a box at Window Rock Basha's parking lot. Waddles couldn't walk so he kind of hopped with his front legs and one good back leg. X-rays revealed a fractured hindleg, but his spirit and sweet personality demanded we give him a chance. Cedar Animal Medical Center pinned the fracture and neutered him before we got him to a foster home. Marilyn, an experienced foster mom nursed him and he gradually began waddling along on his repaired leg. He is now the much loved and pampered pet of Mary in Albuquerque.

Chari, an older Collie mix, leaving the Home 4 the Holidays 2008 Adopt-a-thon.

Right: Chelsea came in from Chinle starving, suffering from mange, and with a broken jaw. After surgery, medical treatment, and lots of good chow, she recovered to be adopted by a loving family.

Benefit Fundraiser for the Humane Society Coral's 3rd Annual Memorial Dinner

Sandra Garcia-Jochem hosted Coral's 3rd Annual Memorial Dinner to benefit the animals of McKinley County Humane Society on May 16, 2009 at the Elk's Club. Puerto Rican food and special entertainment were featured during the event.

Coral was Sandra's beloved and soulmate canine companion for 8 years. She died from lymphoma on January 11, 2007. "I thank God everyday for bringing her into my life and allowing me to experience a love that I never thought was possible," says Sandra.

Coral's 2007 & 2008 Memorial Dinners were big successes, too and all proceeds from Coral's Dinners went to the local animals that are less fortunate than those which have homes. Thanks to all who attended and contributed.

Brownie, a Toto look-alike terrier, was adopted by her retired mom at the recent Valentine's Day Adopt-a-thon in Albuquerque.

Neela was a stray rescued by AC officers last fall. Since she was missing a front leg, it seemed likely she had suffered an injury or accident, but closer examination determined she may have been born with only three legs. Neela attracted the attention of Diana of Denver, Colorado who was searching for a 2nd special needs canine and flew home for Christmas 2008.
